WHAT'S IN A NAME ~ WONDERBOOM

The Wonderboom or "Miracle tree" is a unique 1000 year old fig tree found in South Africa. The tree, a national monument, is unusually large, standing some 25 metres high and having a 5.5 metre diameter main trunk. Its growth pattern is unusual: as its branches have grown longer, they have drooped towards the ground and eventually taken root and formed a circle of new trunks or daughter trees around the original tree. There are now a total of 13 trunks and the colossal tree covers an area with a diameter of 55 metres. This Tree of Wonder is a perfect metaphor for how we see our expanding projects in the culinary world. We allow new talent to take root and grow while being under the shade of the main tree. The main tree nurtures and provides life in this symbiotic relationship.

YOUR FAVORITES

“Wonderboom’s smoothie bowls are my absolute favourite pre or post workout. My go to is their Berry Delicious, thirst quenching and packed full of yummy antioxidants.”

~ Sereni Linggi,
Voodoo Cycle & Voodoo Body
Co-Founder

“Wonderboom’s Oishidesu Mentaiko noodle bowl with salmon flakes is pure comfort in a cup—dreamy, creamy, and packed with umami. The mentaiko sauce is rich but not overpowering, with just the right balance of saltiness and depth, while the salmon flakes add a nice little burst of flavor. It’s the kind of bowl that makes you pause after the first bite just to appreciate how good it is.”

~ Jasmine (JJ),
Foodie and Hammer Thrower
